

'Lost in Thought Among lotus'

Rosemary Oh has nurtured a love for painting and the arts since her youth. Through the years she has tried her hand at sketching, batik painting, Chinese painting, antique restoration and attended art appreciation classes – but porcelain painting remains her 'number one love'. When Rosemary went to Bali she saw this beautifully carved frame. She thought this would be the perfect frame for the painted tile titled 'Lost in thought among lotus'.

1. Pen work on the lotus with Serves Pink, Olive Green for leaves.

2. Colour the lotus with Serves Pink and American Beauty, leaves with Chartreuse and Olive Green, Black Green and add background to it.

3. Last firing do all the detail work.

4. Portrait of the Chinese lady painted on a porcelain canvas.
